WONDERFUL FOSSIL

A fossil, evidently prehistoric and a cross between an alligator and a lizard, was found at Caldera, a sea port of Chili, by Archie Mackenzie in August last, lying on a sunken rock near the north beach. He reported the find to the authorities, and by order of the intendente, Senor Carlos Sayago, it was lifted out of the water in sections and brought ashore, where it was found to be a

If England has really secured control of Delagoa Bay the Boers will be well cut off from outside help.

The Owensboro Messenger calls Mr. Taylor's exercise of his power as governor usurpation. Its partisanship makes the Messenger not on an unjust but unwise judge.

The Sun yesterday gave the Leader an "Oliver" for its "Roland." The Benton Tribune shot at the Leader was a bomb, while the Louisville Times' drive at the Sun was hard y a firecracker.

General Wood promises radical reforms in the management of the prisons of Cuba. He has already given them attention and started the good work. There is from his admission much need of the reformation.

There is much smallpox throughout the section which surrounds Paducah, Calico, Memphis and all the small towns just northeast of here. Our authorities cannot be too careful to prevent a reappearance of the disease here.

It is tipped from the capital that Hon. Tom Pettit, of Owensboro, may succeed Mr. Ellis on the election commission. It is not tipped, but is easily understood, that this is an effort to reward Pettit for his speeches in the late canvass and as chaff thrown to the Populist part of the Democratic party.

Gen. H. B. Lyon, of Eddyville, is named as among the probable selection by the Goebelites for the vacancy on the state election board. Is this not a stab at the general—an effort to defeat him for speaker? It would seem so, for it was said during his canvass and has been said since that he was against the Goebel law and it has never been said that he had denied the very creditable statement.

There may be some men in the legislature who are partisan enough to vote to seat Goebel and oust Taylor no matter the vote of the people against just such a thing, but there are not enough of them to accomplish such a high-handed outrage. The Sun has faith in the honesty of the average man even though many of them are Democrats. Then too there is another day, and this fact is one thing well known to the general man.

The Goebelites are now talking of Ellis for senator. The suggestion is a new subterfuge. Ellis has gone into seclusion through the treachery of the gang with which he was recently traiting and there they will let him stay as rebuke for his honesty. The use of his name for senator is only thrown out as a feeler to sound the opposition to Blackburn, and as a play of pacification to Ellis, when the gang would like to drop as easily as possible.

There is a bill before the New York legislature to stop the sale of carbolic acid except on a physician's prescription. The idea is to prevent the use of the drug by those disposed to suicide and is not a bad one. But the bill should be amended and made to include cocaine and all similar narcotics by the use of which many people are committing suicide. Perhaps if New York acts such an example other states will follow suit and a much needed law become general.

The partisanship of the Louisville Times went let it tell the truth half the time. It says: "To rebuke the Courier-Journal for insinuating that some solons are for sale, the Paducah Sun advises all solons to sell out to the political trust. The excerpt from the Sun, which the Courier-Journal printed and which prompted the Times to remark as it did contains not a word that could be stretched into such advice as the Times says it does, for the Sun was no use of such a term as a 'political trust.' The Sun's advice was to steer clear of the teachings of the Courier-Journal, which is about the only political trust the state seems to have, and nothing was said about selling out to any one. The Times should show to the truth, let the chips fall where they may.

It is clear that all the bright legal minds have not yet been made jurists for the state. It is easy to find a "fit subject" for a high judge or a laudate asylum on the trip of any given settler in the state. These wise men settle every legal question, especially regarding the election contest, as rapidly as they come up, to the satisfaction of the Bow's gang, and they do it with the ease that the slyer lawyer takes case and a fee. The Sun truly regrets there are so many legal minds tied down by love of country to the tripod in so many parts of the state, yet it is perhaps best. Were they all free to serve where they are destined to yet land—on the benches of the courts not the parks—there would be such a crush of candidates for the judgeships that Louisville mob conventions would by necessity become quite common occurrences.

Samuel Shackelford is being placed in a very ridiculous light by Frankfort correspondents. These F. C's are saying Mr. Shackelford, as clerk of the court of appeals, refuses to exercise a right which is a virtue of his office, to swear in the appointees of Gov. Taylor to the vacancies on the election board. The statement is further made, by insinuation, that Shackelford has the key to the situation and if he refuses to recognize any body but the selections of the pure Poyntz Republicans will be floored, in a way. There never was and never will be such one-man power as these correspondents would have the public believe and they are making the clerk of the court of appeals appear as long as they themselves. He should act and explain by a denial before any magistrate or other official with the power administers the oath to Mr. Taylor's appointees and the public gets the laugh on him.

There is always interest in historical facts. The Republican party had its beginning in the west. The first work of starting a new party on the Republican lines, and with the Republican name, was begun in a little town in Wisconsin on February 28, 1854. The first considerable body of persons to put forward the Republican program, and the Republican name was a state convention held in Michigan on July 6 of that year. Wisconsin adopted the program and name in a state convention a week later, July 13, the anniversary of the adoption of the ordinance of 1787 which shut slavery out of the Northwest territory, the region comprising the present states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and that part of Minnesota east of the Mississippi. A great party in this way grew to be the leading party.

Fulton, the fellow whom Poyntz wants to make a member of the state election board, is being shown up by the state press in a light not at all enviable, even by political things. Fulton was one of the county canvassers of Nelson county who wanted to count 1100 votes for a man not a candidate, just because there was an error in the certificate used by the poll clerks—who in fact wanted to elect Governor Taylor of this many votes which all men knew had been cast for him. This one act clearly indicates the size of the man Fulton, and in taking him up for a high place his party lets themselves down just that much.

John Melon's new paper, to be established in Frankfort, will be known as the Democrat. It will be all right as a newspaper, for John is all right in the business, but the name adopted and the career John has cut out for the paper makes his old friends in this section smile, for through John may say he "thanked" he has never been a Republican—and the thanks are horse and horse—still he has run the political gamut of free silver, sound money, populism and all other kinds of democracy, so-called.

ELECTION COMMISSIONERS.
Lexington Herald: "We were mistaken in the statement that Captain Ellis resigned before Judge Pryor. Judge Pryor resigned and immediately did Captain Ellis resign; and it is stated that Mr. Poyntz appointed Mr. Fulton, of Bardonia, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Judge Pryor; and these two will appoint the successor to Captain Ellis. We desire to express our gratification at the refusal of Judge Pryor to remain and to be responsible for any appointment, and we hope it is true that Captain Ellis had nothing to do with the appointment of Judge Pryor's successor. We trust the report that Mr. Poyntz is solely responsible for the selection of Mr. Fulton is accurate. It illustrates the enormity of the infamy of the Goebel law that the electoral machinery of the state can be thus placed in the hands of Mr. Poyntz.

"We presume Governor Taylor will appoint two persons to fill the vacancies created by the resignations of Judge Pryor and Captain Ellis; and thus have the question settled as to the power of Mr. Poyntz to fill these vacancies. We know the custom is for the courts to decide such questions from a party standpoint, and the circuit judge—Judge Canfield—and three of the present appellate court judges decided the Goebel law constitutional, and it is hardly to be expected that those who have swallowed the canal will choke at a knot. And it is probable that these courts will sustain the action of Mr. Poyntz. Yet the question ought to be judicially determined at the earliest possible day. A final decision can be had before the day upon which the board can hear the trials now inaugurated.

"If such power is lodged in the hands of a single man then it becomes more imperative that this law be repealed, and it is well that this issue be met and settled.

"The board with Judge Pryor and Captain Ellis did command a certain respect and confidence, which it will never have as the creature of Mr. Poyntz who is held to be the mere tool of Mr. Goebel.

WILL HAVE A WALKOVER.
Cincinnati Commercial Tribune: "McKinley will be nominated at Philadelphia and re-elected, and by a tremendous majority. In 1872 Grant was nominated for a second term, and without a particle of opposition. And it will be the same way with President McKinley. Then Grant was re-elected by an overwhelming majority, and will be the same way with the present incumbent. Like Grant, he stands for the honor of the nation, and, like Grant, the people will take up his cause and show that they are now, as they were twenty-seven years ago, for the old flag. In 1872 Grant had the largest plurality ever given a presidential candidate, viz. 762,991, and McKinley came next three years ago with 601,854. That's history.

As a prophecy, McKinley's plurality in 1900 will break the record, especially if the great apostle of free silver and oratory be his opponent. Philadelphia is a good point in which to start a Republican campaign, and the present one will be no exception."

WE OWN THE COURTS
Outrageous Condition of Affairs in Fayette County.
Erection of Scaffolds to Go Unpunished Because of Political Influence.

Lexington Herald: "We own the courts" was a common boast at the election of 1896, when the chiefs were turned over by armed raffians, when negroes were driven from the booths and hundreds of legal voters were disfranchised. No indictments were found in the state courts, no one was fined in any of the courts, and indictments were returned in the federal courts, which indictments were dismissed without trial and without public investigation. The boast was constantly repeated during the canvass of 1897; and again no indictments were returned, and no punishment inflicted upon any one. It has been heard scores of hundreds of times during the past few months. The grand jury of the Fayette circuit court has adjourned and again no indictments are returned and again no one is punished. Is our judicial system a failure? This is a serious and important question. Or is the defect altogether personal?

The late grand jury was a representative body—a fairly representative body of the average intelligence, character and honesty of the community. It is reported to have been composed of seven who voted for Mr. Goebel and five who voted against him. Every member of that grand jury and every man in the county knew of the violations of the laws concerning elections. There has been no secrecy, no attempt to hide, no effort to conceal these acts.

The ballot box and ballots for the Athens precinct were stolen and that entire precinct disfranchised; the polls at Bell's school house was not really opened at all and that entire precinct disfranchised. In No. 10 the first set of officers intended to disfranchise that precinct and were prevented by the active and forceful conduct of a few voters. In some of the city precincts every section of the law was violated—openly, boldly, without concealment or attempt to hide. Negroes were bribed to stay away from the registration; names of voters were written erroneously. And the grand jury practically announces that those who committed these violations of law are above the law and are not to be annoyed with indictments that violations of the election laws are not even to be investigated by petty juries. Unfortunately, the circuit judge, the district attorney, the county attorney and the sheriff are of the same party to which the majority of the grand jury belonged.

We state the simple facts known to every citizen in the county. We add neither criticism nor censure. The problem is too grave for either. Again we submit to our readers this Sabbath morning: "Is our whole judicial system a failure?" What remedy remains? What redress is there in our state courts for those who have been disfranchised? Where must they go for relief; where must they go for protection to this highest and most sovereign right?

And in a community where election outrages are protected all other outrages of a certain general character will necessarily go unpunished. There is a large class of offenses of a peculiar nature which are carried on under the semi-protection of the officers of the law; those who commit these offenses are those who take advantage of loose election customs to control the nominations and elections of officers whose duties are specially connected with their occupations. Free, honest, incorruptible elections are the foundation upon which the execution of the law as to these offenses rest. The ordinary, common and somewhat vulgar crimes can be punished; the larcenies, the robberies, the acts of violence by the poor, the humble and the colored will be punished. Other offenses will be licensed by periodical fines or go wholly unpunished. The occasional raids made by well-meaning preachers and "good" citizens will amount to nothing permanent. "The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib."

The arrest of W. C. Stoy, at Augusta, Ga., on the charge of setting fire to the Perkins Manufacturing company's plant Tuesday night, has caused a sensation there. The city has lost more than a million dollars in fire this month, and the losses have been total. The origins of these fires have been more or less a matter of conjecture. Ten or twelve years ago Stoy was arrested for setting fire to buildings on Ellis street, Augusta. His relatives had a writ of lunacy taken out for him and he was sent to the asylum at Milledgeville. He was released after a time and returned to Augusta, where he has since lived.

The Goebel men and Goebel newspapers seem to discover no disgrace in their utterances which indicate that they expect representatives to the general assembly to pledge themselves to support Goebel in the coming contest before they shall have an opportunity to hear the facts and the evidence that will be produced in trying the contest.—Earlington Bee.

After having declared on every stump in Kentucky that if there was to be any stealing in this election we'd do it, Senator Blackburn now sets up a howl that "we" have been robbed by the Republicans. No wonder the whole nation is in a broad grin.—Louisville Dispatch.

The organization of the coming legislature is the point of interest to the political outlaws who are attempting to secure offices that belong to other men. If the legislature can be properly organized, Republicans can be unseated, committees can be packed and various other Goebelistic methods can be resorted to. It is the key to the situation.—Louisville Dispatch.

Charles Wheeler wishes he could be as pure as Goebel. We sincerely join him in that wish. Even Goebel is an improvement on Wheeler.—Mr. Sterling Gazette.

According to the "address" issued by the Democratic state campaign committee, 3,000 stalwart Democrats were kept from voting by the Republicans. It is certain that the gentleman who gave this wonderful statement to the public do not believe themselves. In fact, they know it is untrue.—Lexington Leader.

The Hon. Bill Goebel has been emboldened by Mr. Wheeler in the Congressional Record as "the tribune of the people." The political undertakers are disposed to do the nice thing by Bill.—Washington Post.

If the purpose of the contest was to purify the election, eliminate everything that was wrong without fear or favor, to vindicate the majesty of the law and the franchise of the citizen, all good people irrespective of party should hail with delight the contest. But judging by all such contests in the past and the present embittered feeling between the politicians, this contest will only prolong strife, bitterness, enmity and recrimination and moreover still divide and alienate party alignments.—Richmond Courier.

Goebel wins, there is no doubt of that, though it's not a governorship, but a Taylor-made suit.—Somerset Paragon.

"BELLES OF BLACKWE"

Mrs. Henri Redford and Miss Emma Campbell, who recently gave a most pleasing entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. hall, and who came here a few days since to arrange for a more extensive entertainment, will present the "Belles of Blackwell" at Morton's opera house one evening next week, probably Thursday. The ladies have secured the assistance of a number of young ladies and gentlemen of the city and with some other talent promise the people a new and decidedly up-to-date entertainment. The "Belles of Blackwell" has been presented in St. Louis, Memphis and Jackson and elsewhere with great satisfaction and the ladies unhesitatingly promise an exceptional presentation here. The people can begin to count on something above the average.

"SIDE TRACKED."

Theater goers of this generation are desirous of witnessing only such organizations as prove their popularity nightly by playing to large receipts. When success crowns every effort of the manager, the actors feel duty bound to please the audience. The play moves with ease, changes are met with more enthusiasm by the audience and the public feels more delighted and better paid for their time. The comedy, "Side Tracked," which is due here next Monday night is reported as doing a phenomenal business and has a record for successful management.

THE COLDEST.
Last night was by one degree the coldest night of the season. The mercury fell to 16 and it was calm but frigid. There was a stiff breeze.

Today has continued quite calm though it is still calm and the sky is bright.
